INTRODUCTION

Lifeline Canberra was established in 1971 as part of a national telephone counselling network, Lifeline Australia. As part of its intent to become a greater support service for the community, Lifeline Canberra has developed this strategic plan to guide the business to June 2012.

This plan lays the foundation of where the organisation is today, an outline of its products and services, and its current position. It also outlines the vision of the organisation for the future, and the steps needed in order to achieve that vision.
WHERE WE ARE TODAY

Lifeline Canberra continues to deliver excellent services to the community through its various offerings and its commitment to being available when people need support. These services include:

TELEPHONE COUNSELLING
Lifeline telephone counselling service offers two 24 hour crisis counselling, information and referral lines - one for people who are homeless or facing homelessness (CEAS) and our general crisis counselling service (13 11 14). This service is offered by highly trained volunteer telephone counsellors.

MARKETING AND FUNDRAISING
Lifeline marketing and fundraising services promote a number of events each year to the ACT community which raise funds to enable Lifeline to provide our services. These events include the biannual Lifeline Canberra Bookfair.

GAMBLING CARE
Lifeline gambling counselling program provides professional, confidential problem gambling and financial counselling to people affected by problem gambling.

LYNX
Lifeline Youth Network (LYNX) runs courses for young people, giving them an opportunity to build resilience by enhancing their skills and encouraging individual empowerment through the provision of information and skill development.

TRAINING AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
Lifeline training and professional development service offers training programs covering communication and counselling skills to both the Government and non-Government sector within the ACT and surrounding regions.

Lifeline Canberra is well represented in the community and is highly respected for the work it undertakes.
